

I

II

III

IV

V

VI

VII

WHO TO CONTACT

Government

Interest groups

Licensing agencies

Trade mark

Registered design

Patent

Who to contact

WHO TO CONTACT

Government

Interest groups

Licensing agencies

Government

Ministry of Economic Development (MED)

MED's responsibilities include policy relating to the protection of intellectual property. The MED IP Policy team promotes New Zealand's interests in IP issues in the international arena such as World Intellectual Property Organization (WIPO) meetings and free trade negotiations.

Intellectual Property Office of New Zealand (IPONZ)

IPONZ is a business unit of the Ministry of Economic Development. IPONZ is responsible for maintaining the New Zealand Patent, Trade Mark, Design and Patent Attorney Registers. Key activities IPONZ is involved in include: examining new applications, recording changes in ownership and licence agreements, publishing the official Journal, and managing registrability hearings. IPONZ also manages the New Zealand Plant Variety Rights Office and acts as a Receiving Office for Patent Co-operation Treaty (PCT) International applications on behalf of the World Intellectual Property Organization (WIPO).

The IPONZ website includes: search engines and searching guides for retrieving information from the New Zealand IP Registers; general information about IP assets and online resources developed for New Zealand teachers and students.

0508 4 IPONZ
(0508 447 669)

info@iponz.govt.nz

WHO TO CONTACT

Government

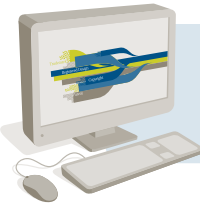

Interest groups

Licensing agencies

Interest Groups

Copyright Council of New Zealand

The Copyright Council of New Zealand is a not-for-profit incorporated society that represents the interests of New Zealand copyright creators and owners. It is also associated with Copyright Licensing Limited, the licensing body for book publishers and authors.

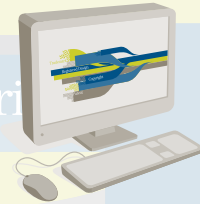

Copyright Council of New Zealand

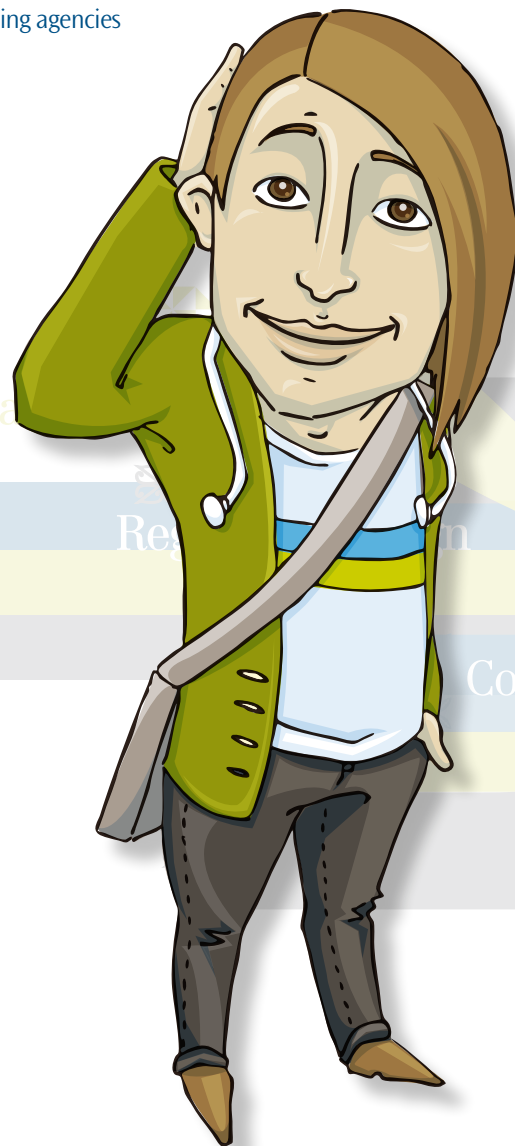

Check out the online resources for New Zealand copyright owners and users.

Recording Industry Association of New Zealand (RIANZ)

RIANZ is a not-for-profit organisation that represents the rights and interests of major and independent record producers, distributors and recording artists in New Zealand. RIANZ acts as an advocate for the recording industry.

Check out both the RIANZ website for composers, performers, and teachers; and the Love Music website for news, competitions and information from the record companies, artists and music providers in New Zealand.

WHO TO CONTACT

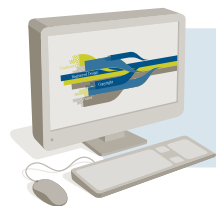

Government

Interest groups

Licensing agencies

New Zealand Federation Against Copyright Theft

NZFA©T is the education and movie piracy investigation and enforcement arm representing the Motion Picture Association in New Zealand.

Check out both the NZFACT and Stop Piracy in New Zealand websites for the latest news and educational resources.

0800 COPYRIGHT (0800 267 974)

WHO TO CONTACT

Government

Interest groups

Licensing agencies

Printed works

Book Publishers Association of New Zealand Inc \(BPANZ\): represents book publishers and distributors in New Zealand.

New Zealand Society of Authors \(NZSA\): represents New Zealand writers and illustrators in New Zealand and internationally.

New Zealand Writers Guild: represents scriptwriters working for radio, television, film and theatre in New Zealand.

Photographic works

Advertising and Illustrative Photographers Association \(AIPA\): represents professional photographers working in advertising, editorial and illustrative areas.

New Zealand Institute of Professional Photography \(IPP\): represents professional photographers and allied industries operating in a wide range of photographic and related disciplines.

WHO TO CONTACT

Government

Interest groups

Licensing agencies

Film and video works

Motion Picture Distributors Association of New Zealand (MPDA): represents major international film studios and the distribution of their motion pictures.

New Zealand Film Commission: represents film investors through sale and marketing of New Zealand films.

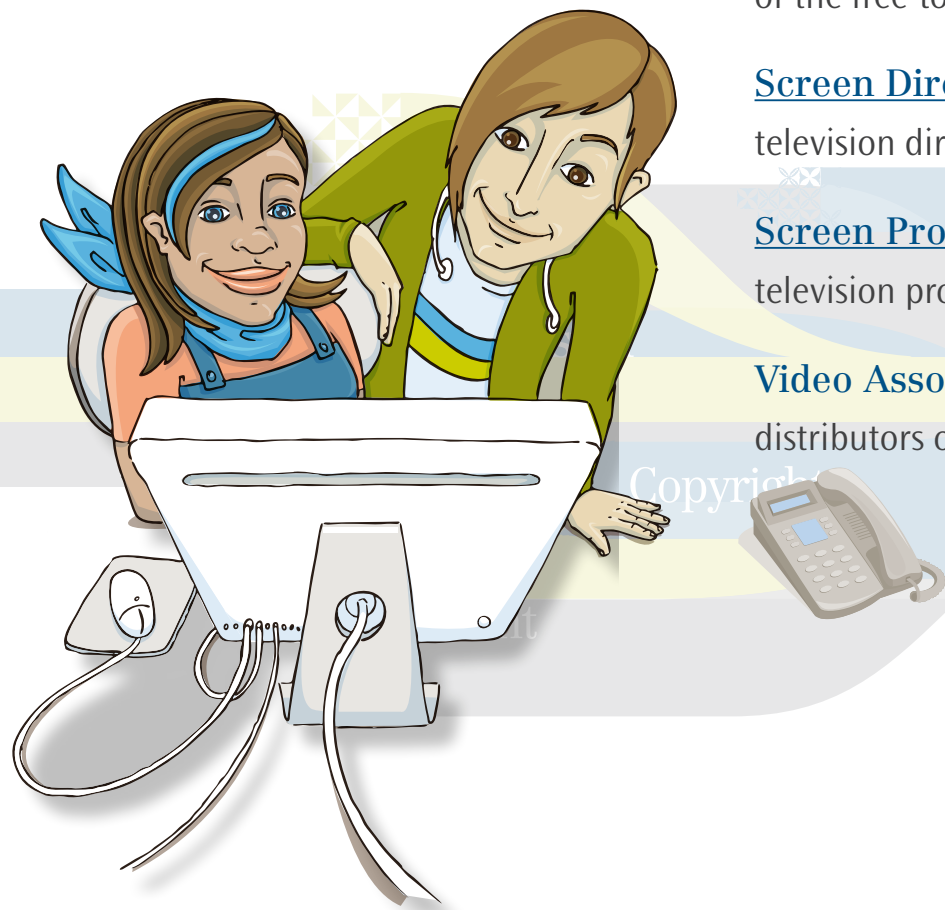

New Zealand Television Broadcasters Council: represents the non-competitive interests of the free-to-air television networks.

Screen Directors Guild of New Zealand: represents the interests of New Zealand film and television directors.

Screen Producers and Directors Association (SPADA): represents New Zealand film and television producers and directors.

Video Association of New Zealand: represents major international producers and distributors of motion pictures in video format.

09 376 4480 or fax 09 360 1135

WHO TO CONTACT

Government

Interest groups

Licensing agencies

Licensing agencies

In New Zealand, there are a number of agencies who deal with copyright licensing. These agencies are authorised by the copyright owner(s) to grant licences for use of their creative work.

Printed works

Copyright Licensing Limited \(CLL\): represents book publishers and authors from New Zealand and overseas, providing licences for copying from printed copyright works.

Film and video works

Screenrights – The Audio-Visual Copyright Society: represents the interests of film and television directors.

Visual arts

Viscopy: is the only visual artists' copyright agency in the Australia Pacific region.

WHO TO CONTACT

Government

Interest groups

Licensing agencies

Musical works

Australasian Mechanical Copyright Owners Society Ltd \(AMCOS\): an association of music publishers that administers the reproduction rights of copyright music.

Australasian Performing Right Association \(APRA\): an association of composers, lyricists and their publishers that administer the public performance and broadcast rights of copyright music.

Phonographic Performance New Zealand Ltd \(PPNZ\): an association of recording artists and recorded music owners (e.g. record labels) that administer the public performance and broadcast rights of copyright recorded music.

Recording Industry Association of New Zealand \(RIANZ\): represents major and independent record producers, distributors and recording artists throughout New Zealand

WHO TO CONTACT

Government

Interest groups

Licensing agencies

Public screenings of film or video

There is currently no central public performance licensing mechanism in New Zealand for screening films or DVDs. If you want to get permission to publicly screen a movie, you'll need to contact the company that has the distribution rights for that film.

Here is a list of New Zealand contact numbers for the large motion picture studios and film distributors:

United International Pictures

Tel (09) 379-6269

Twentieth Century Fox

Tel (09) 309-0955

Roadshow Film Distributors

Tel (09) 820-8880

Roadshow Entertainment (NZ) Ltd

Tel (09) 820-8800

Walt Disney Studios

Tel (09) 302-7566

Columbia Tristar (NZ) Ltd

Tel (09) 366-9499

Warner Bros Video Ltd

Tel (09) 379-2964

Universal Pictures Video

Tel (09) 375-774

Please call NZFACT on 0800 267 974 if you have problems tracking down the studio copyright owner.